

Making A Difference With The Spirit of Giving

Casey, Moluccan Cockatoo was a healthy, happy parrot for a couple years of his life. He was then re-homed to a family which had him 20 years. He was sprayed with boiling water when he would make ANY noise. He began to self-mutilate his body, including his legs. When he was taken to a boarding/rescue facility the staff convinced the "owners" to relinquish Casey. He flew over Rainbow Bridge on November 18, 2011 at 7:42 am, a couple months after arriving at the facility. Rest in peace Casey—your suffering is over. How many more parrots like Casey are out there?

The Calgary Parrot Club, Its Members and Parrot Friends
